

TREAT LIKELY TO SUCCEED ROGERS

His Appointment to the Collectorship Seems Assured.

PLEASED THE PRESIDENT

Showed Himself to be a Good Loser—Pilots' Association Offers a Bill.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—It is regarded as pretty well assured that the President will appoint Morgan Treat to the collectorship of the Eastern District of Virginia in case he makes up his mind not to retain Captain Rogers. There is good reason to reiterate the assertion made in these dispatches yesterday that the President is considering the retirement of Captain Rogers, or, at least, he is thinking of appointing somebody else in his place. The President was most favorably impressed by the good-humored way in which Mr. Treat took his dismissal and the appointment of Mr. Stuart to succeed him, and told Mr. Treat he would "look out" for him. He appears to be looking towards the office of the collector for a good berth for the ex-marshall.

Allan a Candidate.

Edgar Allan, Jr., of Virginia, wants to be the collector. He does not stand in with Mr. Sleep so very well, it seems, as he went to the White House to-day with Representatives Grosvenor, of Ohio, and Landis, of Indiana. The nature of his talk with the President is not known.

Captain Oscar E. Edwards, of Norfolk, and Captain R. C. Marshall, of Portsmouth, president and general counsel of the Virginia Pilots' Association, are here to-day for the purpose of protesting and incidentally, defeating, if possible, the bill introduced by Mr. Littlefield in the House, and Senator Frye in the Senate abolishing compulsory pilotage for coastwise vessels. Captain Edwards says that compulsory pilotage for vessels of this class has been abolished only in States where a sufficient number of foreign vessels come in to support the Pilots' Association. Virginia is the most northerly State requiring pilots for coastwise vessels. The National Pilots' Association is opposing the measure.

A Pilot's Appeal.

Captain Marshall is here for the purpose of ascertaining the date on which the Supreme Court will hear the case of Thompson vs. Darden, which is brought up from the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia. Darden, who is a member of the State Pilots' Association, offered his services as pilot to Thompson, the owner of a coastwise vessel, entering the Cape of Virginia. The services were refused. Darden sued. He was in the State courts, but Thompson brought the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. The case will be heard the 22d instant.

A DAY OF DEBATE AS TO SWAYNE'S GUILT

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Further consideration was given in the House of Representatives to-day to the impeachment charges against Judge Charles Swayne, of the Northern District of Florida. There was a noticeable lack of interest in the case except among a few members. Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, claimed that there had been no "hunting or hounding" of the O'Neal contempt case. O'Neal sought to get his revenge on Judge Swayne, and charged that since O'Neal died his friends were to an extent carrying on the prosecution. Managers of the case (Massachusetts, Perkins (New York) and Parker (New Jersey) also spoke, the two first named for and the last named against impeachment.

The Swayne charges were laid aside, and the House adjourned until to-morrow.

THE MARYLAND'S TRIAL TO OCCUR THIS MONTH

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—The armored cruiser Maryland, built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, will have her official acceptance trial on the 25th instant. Owing to the fact that the new deep water course off the coast of Maine will not be ready by the date for the trial of the Maryland, that vessel will be speeded over the old Cape Anne course off the coast of Massachusetts. The Maryland is required by the terms of her contract to maintain an average speed of twenty-two knots an hour.

Nominations Confirmed.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The Senate today, in executive session, confirmed the following nominations:
James D. Yoanans, Iowa, to be an Interstate Commerce Commissioner.
David E. Thompson, Nebraska, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to Brazil.
Charles J. Green, receiver of moneys at Hatch, N. M.
Postmaster: George Andrew D. McComb, Buena Vista; Mary L. Darden, Hoganville; William C. Cole, Lawrenceville; Clarence C. Withoff, Valley; David B. Rigdon, Statesboro; Mary P. Dixon, West Point.
Carrollina-John E. McLure, Elkhornville.

The confirmation of Commissioner Yoanans was opposed at first by Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, who said it was understood that Senator Cockrell was to be Mr. Yoanans's successor. Senator Dorr reported that there was a friendly understanding whereby Mr. Yoanans would resign after the close of the present session in favor of the senator from Missouri. Thereupon objection to confirmation was withdrawn.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Remains of Dr. Mathews Borne to Their Last Resting Place.

MANY ATTEND THE FUNERAL

Confederate Camp to Celebrate Lee-Jackson Day—Prisoner Ill in Jail.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.
The funeral of Dr. Thomas P. Mathews took place from Baldrick Street Baptist Church yesterday afternoon, and the attention in which the widely known physician was held, was shown by the great outpouring of people. The church was crowded a half hour before the time fixed for the service to begin, people thronged the vestibule and steps and many finding themselves unable to get in the church went away.

Many cars, filled with sorrowing friends from Richmond, added to the great concourse. It is doubtful whether a funeral was ever more largely attended in Manchester. The board of visitors of the Medical College of Virginia, the members of the Foreign Mission Board and the trustees of the Woman's College, occupied special places reserved for them. The service was a simple, but very impressive one—a tribute from the community to a good man whom all loved. Rev. Dr. E. N. Baldy conducted the service, assisted by Drs. Thornhill, Derieux, Bomar and Smith. During the tender and earnest prayer of Dr. Smith, which was an expression of gratitude to God for the noble and useful life of the deceased and an invocation for divine blessings upon all bereaved by his death, especially the stricken family, brought tears to the eyes of the large congregation. The music was exceptionally good, and included the singing by Mr. Oscar Lohman of "Home of the Soul." The casket was almost hidden from view by lovely flowers, which were sent in great profusion.

Camp to Celebrate.

At a meeting held last night the Joseph B. Johnson Camp of Confederate Veterans, decided to hold a significant celebration on Monday night, January 19th, in honor of Lee-Jackson Day. The affair promises to be a most enjoyable one, and will include speech-making, music and supper. The following committee was appointed to arrange the celebration: Lieutenant Commander J. J. Blanton, R. A. Baugh, H. A. Jordan, Robert Snead, J. G. Saunders, B. A. Jarvis, B. M. Robertson, William Owen, John D. Lipscomb, J. J. Chisholm and James Butler.

Prisoner Seriously Ill.

James White, colored, now serving a term of two years in the Manchester jail is threatened with cerebral spinal meningitis, and is in a serious condition. White was convicted on several charges of larceny and sentenced to two years. Everything possible is being done for his comfort.

Will He Plead Insanity.

W. B. Stairs is now confined in the Manchester jail waiting trial in the Corporation Court on two charges of burglary and each day he seems to become more and more insane.

It is not known whether the man is really a lunatic or not. A doctor was recently called in to see him, but each day he grows worse. It may be possible that he is feigning insanity so that he might make that plea before the court.

Can Hold Both Positions.

At a recent meeting of the police board it was unanimously voted that Captain Lipscomb be allowed to hold both positions, that of chief of police and city engineer. The action was taken upon a resolution presented, restraining him from holding both positions. The proposition was laid on the table.

Sues the Casualty Company.

Suit has been instituted in the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond by J. F. Moore and Company, against the United States Casualty Company for $300. So far no declaration has been filed and the merits of the case are therefore not known.

Calls for Reports.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—The Comptroller of the Currency to-day issued a call for reports on condition of national banks at the close of business on Wednesday, January 11th.

PAULA EDWARDES AS WINSOME WINNIE

She Ogled the Men in the Front Row Last Night.

Paula Edwardes, as Winsome Winnie, the snake charmer, a long way from the East Side muscums, ogled the men in the front row at the Academy last night, and tried her charms upon them. There are two things that should be eliminated from performances in a first-class theatre. One is a conversation between a performer (the latter word is well used in this connection) and the orchestra leader, and the other is singing to those in the audience and pointing out individuals. Paula Edwardes did not commit the first offense, but she was guilty of the latter. Such laughing snatches too much of the concert hall, and is not to be tolerated where ladies and gentlemen assemble for an evening's entertainment. Paula Edwardes has a pert, audacious way about her, as does Winsome Winnie. She is sufficiently winning to please most of her audience. She lacks a singing voice, but her husky tones suit very well for some of her speaking lines. The production was quite up to the average, and in some respects was a little above it. Edward Paulson, as Dr. Taylor, the proprietor of "Taylor's Cherry Tablets," got all that a comedian could get out of the part, and this was a good deal, for the role is a clever satire upon patent medicine quacks. Mr. Edwards furnished most of the humor of the piece. Miss Margaret Walker, as the "Snake," was good to look upon. The production was very well mounted, and in one of the chorus numbers there were some pretty light effects introduced.

"A Son of Rest."

Nat M. Willis, supported by a company headed by May Florine Linden, Alene Colton, Mona Wynne, Georgia Snyder, Margaret Miles, Lydia Van Wyck and Margaret Miles, as well as near sixty more farriers, comes to the Academy this afternoon and night in a production of Willis's happy musical melange, "A Son of Rest," which scored most successfully in all the larger cities of this country last and during the forepart of the present season. Its motive is fun, pure and simple.

Blaney To-day.

Harry Clay Blaney will to-day and to-morrow present his popular melodrama "Across the Pacific," at the Bijou. This is one play which seems to grow in popularity, for the house has been crowded all the week with most appreciative and demonstrative audiences. The company is good and the play one of the most exciting which has been offered in this city.

"The Show Girl."

Resplendent with magnificent scenery, gorgeous costumes, clever and funny comedians and a host of pretty and dainty girls, "The Show Girl," at the Bijou, is the latest success. "The Show Girl" or "The Magic Cap," a musical comedy in two acts, will be seen here at the Bijou all next week.

THREE MODERN WONDERS

Lecture on Wireless Telegraphy, Radium and Liquid Air.

With every seat filled, in the Y. M. C. auditorium last night and the stage occupied by seats, Professor W. B. Patty lectured for two hours on the three wonders of the age—wireless telegraphy, radium and liquid air. Professor Charles H. Winston introduced Professor Patty, who, with a rich, resonant voice and a fund of humor, illustrated these scientific subjects by aid of complete apparatus.

A miniature Marconi wireless outfit was used to send messages, light electric signals and transmit electric power without wires.

The radium was shown in the dark and also in the light, and its wonderful properties charmingly set forth. Liquid air was put through all its wonderful accomplishments, from freezing to welding steel, including many entertaining illustrations, such as the freezing of flowers until they would crush into powder or when left alone return unharmed to their natural flexibility and sweetness, the boiling of ice without melting it, and other beautiful illustrations. Many prominent citizens, professional men and scientists, were present and took deep interest in the lecture.

THE SPIRIT OF WINTER.

The Spirit of Winter is with us, making its presence known in many different ways—sometimes by cheery sunshine and glittering snows, and sometimes by driving winds and blinding storms. To many people it seems to take a delight in making bad things worse, for rheumatism twists harder, twinges sharper, catarrhs become more annoying, and the many symptoms of scrofula are developed and aggravated. There is no doubt, but it is a winter that more people don't get rid of these ailments. The medicine that cures them—Hood's Sarsaparilla—is easily obtained and there is abundant proof that its cures are radical and permanent.

GOVERNOR GLENN'S FIRST MESSAGE

He Recommends Increasing the Salaries of the Supreme Court Judges.

SOUTH DAKOTA BOND SUIT

Bill Providing for Conference of State Officials to Provide for Its Settlement.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 13.—Governor Glenn sent his first message to the General Assembly. It strongly recommended increasing the salaries of Supreme and Superior Court judges.

A bill passed the Senate prohibiting any one, even druggists, from selling or giving away morphine, opium or cocaine, except upon a physician's prescription, which must be rewritten each time in order to be refilled.

The only exception is in cases of accident, pharmacists may administer it when a physician cannot be procured soon enough.

A bill passed allowing appeals in cases of contempt of court just as in criminal cases; also a bill declaring the position of bank cashier a continuing office.

DAKOTA'S BOND SUIT.
In the House the ice was broken in the matter of the judgment against the State, as an outcome of the South Dakota bond suit. Representative Lockhart, of Anson, offered a resolution calling for the Judiciary Committee of House and Senate to meet with the Governor, Attorney-General, Supreme Court Justices and special counsel, employed in the case by the State, and endeavor to find some plan to preserve the interests of the State, and get all the information possible for the benefit of the General Assembly. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Claims.

The Asheville distillery bill passed its second reading by 74 to 22 on Monday day vote. On motion of Mr. Murphy, of Buncombe, it went over on its third reading.

Governor Glenn has signified his intention to unite with the First Presbyterian Church, in this city, and the pastor of the church has made a formal statement to this effect to his congregation.

GENERAL BECOMES A PRIVATE.
General B. S. Royster, the retiring adjutant-general, has enlisted as a private in Company E, Third Regiment, the Greenville Grays. This is the first time that he has entered as a private in the course of his military career.

The North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons that has just closed its 118th annual session here issued charters for new lodges at Dilworth, Mecklenburg; Fair View, Buncombe; Andrews, Madison county; Ellenboro, Cleveland county, and Hamlet, Richmond county.

Grand Master W. S. Liddell says work on the new $15,000 Masonic Temple for the Grand Lodge, in this city, will certainly begin in the early summer.

BUYS THE PLANT.

Purchase of Cape Fear Company—Wires Under Ground.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENSBORO, N. C., January 13.—The Cape Fear Manufacturing Company has purchased the old Hucomuga Cotton Mill property, in the city of Greensboro, and will use it as a lumber manufacturing plant. The factory was destroyed Monday night, entailing a loss of $20,000. The Hucomuga mill is a spacious brick building, and splendidly adapted for a lumber plant.

Greensboro's excellent volunteer fire department is in receipt of three checks, one from the Cape Fear Company for $50, and from the Guilford and Greensboro Lumber Companies for $25 each, as tokens of appreciation for their effect work in preventing the burning of the fire, which was in the heart of the lumber manufacturing district.

The Southern Bell Telephone Company began the work to-day of putting its wires underground in the business section, in compliance with an ordinance of the Board of Aldermen. The work is to be completed within twelve months.

Rev. E. E. Gillespie will leave to-morrow for Richmond, to take a post-graduate course in the Union Theological Seminary. He recently resigned as superintendent of the Home Missions work of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina.

Golf at Pinehurst.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 13.—As the result of the thirty-six-hole semi-final round in the second annual midwinter tournament, Walter J. Travis, the British open champion, and the Atlantic City champion, will meet to-morrow in the 36-hole final round for the president's or first division cup.

Alfred H. Hix, the Columbia Golf Club, of Washington, 10 up to 5 to play, and Powney defeated George C. Dutton, 10 up to 5 to play.

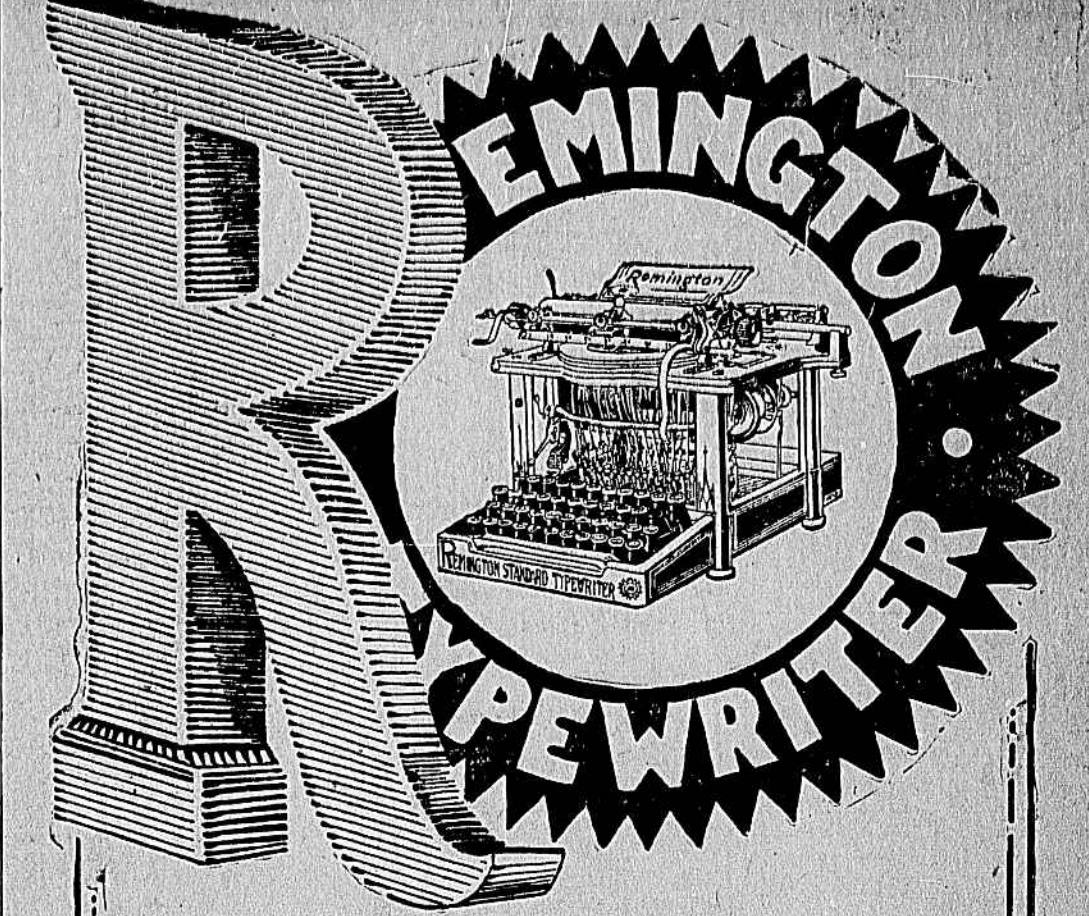

ANTI-TRUST BILL PASSED BY ARKANSAS SENATE

(By Associated Press.)
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 13.—The Senate to-day by a vote of 23 to 3 passed the anti-trust measure, known as the King bill, the passage of which was demanded by a plank in the last Democratic State platform. It provides prohibitory penalties upon any corporation transacting business in Arkansas which is a member of or party to any pool, trust, agreement or combination, whether in this State or elsewhere. The bill was transmitted to the House, where an amendment to exempt labor unions and horticultural and agricultural organizations from its provisions, was adopted. The House then made a special order for next Tuesday.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. D. B. Prosser.

The many friends of Mrs. D. B. Prosser will be greatly shocked to learn of her death, which occurred last night at her residence, No. 1727 Park Avenue. While her illness extended over a period of nearly three weeks, she was in a delicate condition until Wednesday last. She was the daughter of the late Thomas Gallatin and Margaret Ann Gallatin, of New York. She was a consistent member of St. John's Church, and her pastor, Rev. R. A. Goodwin, announced her death. The following address: Mrs. William B. Rind, of Hampton, Va.; Mrs. G. Morgan Shepherd, of Ashland, Va.; Mr. D. B. Prosser, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. R. H. Wright, of New York, Va.; Misses Marie and Milleda and Mr. F. W. Allison, of Richmond, Va.

Tribute to Colonel Goode.

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Mecklenburg, held at the courthouse on the 9th day of January, 1905, the following report was adopted unanimously: The Times-Dispatch requested to publish same:

The people of Mecklenburg are in mourning. Death has once again invaded this happy land, and has taken from us a fellow-citizen who has been taken. On the night of the 5th of the present month, Colonel Thomas M. Goode passed to his final rest. He was a true and noble man, the best of men, and his death is a heavy loss to the community.

For more than a half century Colonel Goode was a loyal son of the county, but he was more; he was the adviser and friend of his people. As a public servant, in peace and in war, he gave his best; that best was characterized by conspicuous ability and unselfish devotion. As a private citizen, he was public spirited, and his voice was ever lifted in behalf of the people's rights, while his hand was ever outstretched to help. His life was pre-eminently useful and successful.

But while Colonel Goode loved his people, he was also a great sympathizer with the poor, and his heart was ever open to the needs of the unfortunate. He was a true and noble man, and his death is a heavy loss to the community.

Respectfully submitted,
